Seminar

Introduction to Dual Vocational Education and Training

0,5 days

up to 50 participants

As an introduction to TVET in Germany we offer you a half-day seminar, where we will discuss a variety of topics. During the lectures, our experts offer a first overview about the dual vocational education system. The topics are as follows:

- Fundamentals of the Dual Vocational Education System (Cooperation between companies and vocational schools, the roles and tasks of the chambers in vocational education, legal frameworks, financing mechanism)
- Structure and Procedures of the Dual Vocational Education System (development of occupations, training plan, apprenticeship contracts, assessment procedures)
- Stakeholders of the Dual Vocational Education System (Companies, vocational schools, HIBB as a special institution from Hamburg, BIBB – Federal Institute for Vocational Education and Training, the Chambers of Industry and Trade, trade unions, federal – and state governments)
- Didactics within the Dual Vocational Education System (vocational competence, professional practice, learning location cooperation, training of in-company trainers, in-service teacher training)

Study tours to a vocational school or companies that take on apprentices are optional and may be added to the programme.

The introductory seminar without a study tour can be organized for up to 50 persons. If a study tour to a vocational school or company is intended, the size of the group should comprise a maximum of 10 persons. If necessary, large groups may be split.

During the planning of the study-trip, we closely coordinate with you in order to respond to your specialised topics in the best possible way.

Based on this, we identify the right institutions for you, organise the visits and prepare relevant lectures.

Hamburg offers a variety of vocational trainings and industries.

You may decide in advance whether you want to get a broad overview of different industries or focus on one specific sector.
